
Enchantment of Love

Enchantment upon waters that run deep, my soul soaring high, never more to weep, gladly giving to joy for the feel like heaven, full of stars, brings happiness beyond compare.

The search for love has been long,
and yesterday is now gone, for today I feel strong, I have found what I have looked for,
and it is you.

The tears are gone and rapture to the degree, for love has touched you and me, giving over to life a sweetness that vanquished bitterness and strife, never more the loneliness of the abyss, for it has no power.

Our love shall stand like a mighty tower, giving hope where there had been none before.
